Arrows not available for Lifeboat Week

THE Red Arrows will not be returning to Lyme Regis to give a display during Lifeboat Week in 2016.

RAF Events, the body which co-ordinates appearances by the Red Arrows, has confirmed that next year's Lifeboat Week - July 23rd-30th - clashes with the Sunderland Air Show, one of the biggest events of its kind in the country, which the Arrows always support, and the crew's annual mid-season leave.

But hopes are still high that the Arrows will be able to appear at Lyme on another date during the summer

£800,000 grant for museum extension

Lyme Regis Museum has received a confirmed grant of £798,000 from the Heritage Lottery Fund (HLF) for its proposed Mary Anning Wing extension.

The £1.3 million project aims to provide the museum with a new fossil gallery and learning space, as well as providing a larger shop and the lift and visitor toilets that the attraction currently lacks.

The news that the Arrows will not be able to appear during Lifeboat Week comes after the organisers, the RNLI Guild, were informed that for the first time ever they would have to pay a fee in excess of £12,000, prompting this newspaper to launch a campaign - "Let's Save The Red Arrows" - to ensure that the 40-year relationship between the RAF's crack aerobatic team and Lyme Regis is preserved.

Red Arrows has traditionally been the highlight of Lyme's summer season, attracting thousands of people to the resort.

The RNLI Guild decided it would not be possible to meet the Red Arrows' fee or that of the RAF parachute team, the Falcons, also regular attenders at Lifeboat Week over the years. They, too, are charging a fee this year, thought to be around £3,500.

The "Let's Save The Arrows" campaign has been met with an unbelievable response with £12,000 already being committed by businesses and donations from local residents.

And this week we are planning to launch the Lyme Regis Red Arrows 100 club in which 100 people will donate £100, bringing in a further £10,000 (see more details on page 5).

Those interested in becoming members are being invited to a gathering at the By The Bay restaurant on the Marine Parade tomorrow (Thursday) at 7pm.

Those who have made smaller donations, or are planning to do so, are also invited.

RAF Events confirmed with the View From Lyme Regis that the Arrows would be unable to appear during Lifeboat Week 2016. However, campaigners have been encouraged to re-submit an application for another date and this will happen during the next couple of weeks.

The Mayor of Lyme Regis, Councillor Owen Lovell, is giving his full backing to the campaign and Lyme Regis Town Council will be deciding at their full council meeting on October 7th how they can best offer support.

Candles on the Cobb raises £40k

ORGANISERS of the unique Candles on the Cobb event, which took place in Lyme Regis in August, have announced that this year's fundraising efforts have totalled a staggering £40,000.

Members of the Candles on the Cobb Committee said they were "in shock" after the impressive total was revealed.

It is almost double the amount raised when the event was last held in 2012 and takes the total amount raised at the summer attraction since it was launched in 2000 to £116,000.

The £40,000 profit will now be split between local youth causes and this year's chosen charity, Make A Wish UK.

The total was made at fundraising events throughout the year, which included a charity golf day, cider and beer festival and a sponsored cycle ride from Land's End to Lyme Regis, as well as on Candles on the Cobb weekend in August, which culminated with the spectacular lighting of 5,000 candles around the town's historic harbour

PETER Smith lives in Bridport and moved to Dorset from London in 2000 after taking early retirement in 1997.

He worked from an apprentice gardener to parks management and when he moved to the area he started a part time job at Abbotsbury Subtropical Gardens where he still works three days a week in the sum-

Peter realised that after renovating the former farmhouse where he lives, he had spare time and it was not yet time to slow down, so he is also members of Symondsbury Parish Council and chairman of the Western Area Transport Action Group (WATAG).

YOU are chairman of WATAG, what inspired you to be a part of the group?

I was nominated as the Parish Transport Representative with WATAG the local group who support the use of public transport we help to negotiate improvements to the services available with both the county council and commercial operators. Eventually I became treasurer and when Bob Driscoll decided to take a break as chairman, I was the only nomination.

WHAT are the biggest problems facing rural public transport today?

The huge reduction in funds available for transport subsidy due mostly by government taking their financial support from local councils and no increase in council tax to replace the funding, which had led to a huge increase in bus services from Bridport to Dorchester, Weymouth, Axminster and even Exeter, which were funded by Dorset County Council from the early 2000s. This gave an hourly service to Dorchester from early morning till late evening for the first time ever (the first bus had not reached Dorchester till well after 10am)!

While daytime services are still well used the Sunday and evening services are under threat. Most routes need 20 passengers to be financially viable as both the X31 and X53 were taken out of subsidy by the operators some years ago.

In a way we were ahead of the cuts now imposed around the country a situation is not helped by the amount reimbursed for concession ticket use, which is controlled by a government formula.

There are currently some proposals to give councils more say over local bus services a situation, which we will monitor carefully over the next few years and be hopefully involved in.

YOU are also a councillor for Symondsbury Parish Council, when did you join and I had become treasurer of Eype Schoolroom, which is the village hall soon after our arrival here. The late Bill Bartlett, who was chairman and a parish councillor, suggested I took the vacant position of the parish council representative as a governor at Symondsbury School (a post which has been deleted). Our daughter was to become a pupil there so I became a parent governor and served for eight years including three as chairman. When our daughter moved to Colfox I was a parent governor for four years. She has just started sixth form at what is now the Sir John Colfox Academy, I had soon become a parish councillor, filling a casual vacancy and being elected in 2007 in what was the first time in living memory that there were more candidates than places!

ARE there any other groups you are a part

I have been on the Bridport Food Festival Committee for about four years and can usually be found at the entrance gate letting the stall holders in at 7am!

WHAT do you like to do in your spare

In my spare time I also deliver the Parish Magazines do some gardening and watch TV (the parliament channel if I'm really bored).

IF you won the Lottery, what would be the first thing you would do? If I won the Lottery I think a new car would be first then to give a lot of thought to anything

useum receives £798k grant for extension

LYME Regis Museum has received a confirmed grant of £798,000 from the Heritage Lottery Fund (HLF) for its proposed Mary Anning Wing extension.

The £1.3million project aims to provide the museum with a new fossil gallery and learning space, as well as providing a larger shop and the lift and visitor toilets that the attraction currently lacks.

The Mary Anning Wing, a modern extension to the museum's charming 1902 building, will enable the museum to extend its free education service for local schools, work more closely with local community groups and make Lyme's fascinating history more accessible. It will also enable the museum to host more events, improve the offer to Lyme's many tourists as well as working with larger museums and universities to encourage the study of Lyme's unique geology.

Lyme Regis Museum is built on the site of the home of Mary Anning, the world's first great fossil hunter and early scientist. Situated at the heart of the Jurassic Coast, the museum has a spectacular collection of local fossils and runs very popular fossil walks on the same beaches that Mary Anning walked 200 years

The largely volunteerrun museum also tells the story of Lyme's other great events and people, its famous writers such as Jane Austen and John Fowles; the Monmouth Rebellion, the last attempted invasion England; and as the birthplace of Thomas Coram, Lyme's "greatest citizen" and founder of the Foundlings Hospital, England's first charity.

David Tucker, director of Lyme Regis Museum, described confirmation of the grant as crossing the "major hurdle" of the project.

By FRANCESCA EVANS francesca@pemedia.co.uk

He continued: "We're delighted that the Heritage Lottery Fund has given us this support. Our museum is bursting at the seams and we'll be able to do so much more for so many more people, both local and tourists.' "We want to play a major role in supporting Lyme's schools and community groups and the Mary Anning Wing will allow us to do just that. People, irrespective of disability will be able to access our first floor and we'll no longer have to send visitors across a busy road to the nearest public toilet. "When I started working on this project I wanted to build something that would make a difference to Lyme Regis Museum, but I now realise it will make a difference to the town. This will bring income into the town, local jobs and will be a great resource for Nerys Watts, head of Heritage Lottery Fund South West, added: "As the home of geological and charitable 'firsts', the inspiration of literary greats and the place to go for generations of people fascinated by fossils. Lyme Regis has an extraordinarily rich heritage.

'Thanks to money raised by National Lottery players, this project will transform the gateway to this heritage with massive benefits for the collections themselves and the visitors and volunteers of this much loved museum. We're delighted to play a fund-

The proposed extension has also won support from The Fine Foundation, Dorset County Council, The Friends of Lyme Regis Museum and The Garfield Weston Trust, and the museum is still actively fundraising to reach the total cost.

West Dorset District Council is currently considering a planning application for the modern extension, with a decision expected to be made at a Development Control Committee on October 8th. If approved, building work is expected to commence in September 2016 and be completed by June 2017.

Housing on car park a no go

TOWN councillors have made a final decision to scrap long-standing plans to build affordable housing on Woodmead Halls car park in Lyme Regis.

The idea of using the car park for affordable rented housing has been considered a possibility for several years, but the previous town council dropped the proposal when Raglan housing, which was working on plans for the site, ran into problems with West Dorset District Council's planning officers.

Former town councillor Mark Gage said it was the "biggest disappointment" of his four years on the council. Lyme Regis Community Land Trust (CLT), which was set up to provide affordable housing, then said it may be able to take the idea forward.

Having looked further at the site, the CLT went to the new town council last week asking for an assurance that they would still be interested in the proposals before they spent anymore time working on it.

However, councillors raised concerns about the potential loss of car parking spaces and the safety of children on a site surrounded by car parking and emergency services, and said they did not think West Dorset's planning department would change its mind.

The Mayor, Councillor Owen Lovell, said he believed the CLT's time and resources would be "better spent else-

Councillor Richard Doney spoke in favour of the idea, saying the CLT were aware of previous concerns and it was worth hearing their proposals.

However, councillors voted against taking the idea forward, with just Councillors Doney and Brian Larcombe voting in favour of it.

Alan spent some of his childhood years in Lyme. He attended the Woodroffe School when and later worked at Axminster Carpets before emigrating to Australia 44 years ago.

A massive thank you for all your help to make this years Candles on the Cobb a huge success. Together we raised £40.000!

Join our club and help to bring the Red Arrows back to Lyme

HIS week we launch the Lyme Regis Red Arrows 100 Club to ensure that the relationship between the RAF's crack aerobatic team and our town, which goes back 40 years, is maintained.

The club will be limited to 100 members who will contribute an annual fee of £100, raising £10,000 towards the cost of meeting the Red Arrows' charge, expected to be in excess of £12,000 a year in the future.

The Red Arrows have been coming to Lyme Regis for more than 40 years but if they are to return next year a fee has to be paid for the first time.

Lifeboat Week organiser, the RNLI Guild, are not in a position to meet the fee or organise a fundraising campaign, so the View from Lyme Regis has launched a "Let's Save the Arrows" campaign which has been met with a magnificent response. One local company has committed to making a donation of £7,000 next year and in successive years.

As reported on our front page, the Arrows are not able to appear in Lifeboat Week next year because it clashes with an appearance at the Sunderland Air Show, one of the biggest events of its kind in the country, and a period of mid-season leave for the crew.

However, with the support of Lyme Regis Town Council, an application is being made for the Arrows to visit Lyme on an alternative date during the summer.

Traditionally, Red Arrows Day has been the most popular summer attraction in Lyme, attracting thousands to the town and providing a significant boost to the local economy.

So what are the benefits of becoming a member of the £100 club? Primarily, the amount raised will ensure that the Arrows' fee can be met next year and in successive years. All members will be invited to a champagne reception on the seafront to watch the Arrows' display over Lyme Bay. Each male member will receive an exclusive Red Arrows 100 Club tie and lapel badge and the ladies will receive a silk scarf. Regular newsletters and promotional offers will also be sent to all members throughout the year.

Those who are interested in becoming a member are invited to a reception at By The Bay restaurant on Marine Parade tomorrow (Thursday) at 7pm where membership forms will be available.

In discussing the idea with community and civic leaders over the past few days, 40 people have already indicated they would like to become a member.

An invitation to tomorrow's gathering is also extended to those who wish to make a donation towards the fund without becoming a member. Several residents have also sent in donations. All those who contribute will receive a certificate acknowledging their support and a Red Arrows' 2016 poster.

Those who are not able to attend the meeting but wish to contribute or become a member should contact the View From's Group Editor Philip Evans on 01297 446155 or call into the View From offices.

Alternatively, complete the form below and send it to: View From Lyme Regis, Unit 3, St Michael's Business Centre, Church Street, Lyme Regis, Dorset DT7 3DB.

New sports trust sends Harvey to Oz!

THE recently formed Lyme Regis & Uplyme Sports Development Trust have sent local cricketer Harvey Brimicombe to Melbourne to play for the Deepdene Bears during the Australian summer season.

Harvey, 22, a former Woodroffe School pupil who plays for Uplyme & Lyme Regis Cricket Club, flew to Australia on September 21st after the trust funded his trip.

The trust was set up to provide local sportsmen and women with opportunities to play abroad and develop their skills.

A spokesperson said: "We wish Harvey the best of luck with this life changing opportunity, which has been made possible by the generosity of the trust's supporters."

Belmont re-opens after £1.8 million restoration

FTER eight years of detailed research, fundraising and restoration, Belmont – the former Lyme Regis home of famed author John Fowles and pioneering 18th century businesswoman, Eleanor Coade – is open once again.

Bought by the Landmark Trust is 2007 in dire need of repair, the grade II listed building on Pound Street has been meticulously restored using traditional craft skills at a cost of £1.8million. With the once faded façade returned to its striking shade of pink, it now reflects the original 18th century seaside villa.

Like the Landmark Trust's other 195 buildings, Belmont, which sleeps eight, will be let as self-catering accommodation for short breaks ensuring it will never again fall into disrepair again.

For nearly forty years Belmont was owned by pioneering 18th century businesswoman, Eleanor Coade (1733-1821). She built up a successful artificial stone business in the "man's world" of the Georgian era.

■ FAMED author John Fowles has been fondly remembered in the restoration of Belmont, with many of his books on display in the house Photo by RICHARD AUSTIN

Coade-stone was used upon many Regency buildings across Britain and beyond that still exist today, including the Royal Naval College in Greenwich and Buckingham Palace, and her business earned the respect of great architects of the day such as Robert Adam and John Nash.

Coade left her own stamp on Belmont, with delicate stone details visible throughout the house, from the mouldings to the fireplaces and even the embellishments on the front of the building, including the intricate faces of the Roman god of the sea, Neptune, and his wife Amphitrite.

Belmont later became the home of acclaimed author John Fowles (1926-2005), where he lived for almost four decades. Much of his work was written at Belmont, including the completion of "The French Lieutenant's Woman", which later became a hit film starring Meryl Streep in the 1980s.

Fowles wanted Belmont to be enjoyed by many people in the future, particularly other writers. Landmark will make the building available to all for self-catering holidays, and there will be a large collection of books reflecting Fowles' work and his interests for guests to browse. Moreover, creative writing students will participate in annual study weeks.

Dr Anna Keay, director of the Landmark Trust, said: "We are enormously proud of having completed this ambitious restoration project, particularly in our fiftieth anniversary year. The rejuvenated building is once again a fitting monument to the genius of Eleanor Coade. Visitors will now be able to stay in her Georgian architectural gem and in so doing experience the beauty and peace that inspired one of our greatest modern writers, John Fowles."

The Landmark Trust has also created a permanent exhibition in the adjacent former stables for the public to visit, and this will be open from 2pm to 5pm every Friday from April 1st to October 31st, starting this year on October 9th. The exhibition offers a window into the lives of Coade and Fowles, as well as Dr Richard Bangay (1834-1933), a lesser-known but fascinating character who also lived at Belmont in the Victorian era

His story has been unearthed for the first time during the restoration. Self-taught and from a poor background, Dr Bangay was a keen astronomer and he built the observatory tower in the garden of Belmont. This is a very rare survival of a working amateur Victorian astronomer's observatory, now newly restored. One of the interesting finds discovered during the restoration was Bangay's signature on one of the timbers, dated 1881.

Belmont was in urgent need of repair when Landmark bought it in 2007, after which the charity raised £1.8million to complete the rescue. Landmark led the restoration process in-house by acting as principal contractor, using traditional craft skills involving haired-lime plasters, lime mortars and renders, traditional joinery and Coade stone repairs.

Carole Paton, one of Landmark's building surveyors, project-managed the work and led a skilled team from start to finish, working with local firms and specialists from the South West throughout.

She said: "Restoration projects are always absorbing, but Belmont has been entirely consuming for everyone involved. We used evidence from the original building to restore Belmont to its appearance and layout in Eleanor Coade's time. Major highlights were finding a signature on one of the keystones and the date of 1782 in one of the urn lids.

"The quality and detail of the Coade stone that survives from this era is astounding and to think that Eleanor may have been personally involved in its creation feels very special."

Thanks to meticulous paint analysis, the façade today is a striking pink to match the shade Mrs Coade would have known. The fireplace and all the delicate decoration in the sitting room, formerly Fowles' writing

■ PRETTY IN PINK: The house has been returned to its original striking pink shade and the Coade stone embellishments have been restored room, are original, after ornate cornices clogged with two centuries of paint were cleaned to reveal their astonishing detail.

The beautiful west window and Mrs Coade's parlour have also been reinstated. Outside, the gate posts are back in their original location with reproduction Coade stone gate caps.

Using such original details, Landmark's craftspeople have recreated any damaged or missing items at their studio in the Cotswolds, such as fireplaces, architraves, shutters and skirting boards. Prince's Foundation apprentices have contributed to the project, including one sponsored by Landmark, who worked alongside experienced craftsmen to carry out joinery work and conservation repairs on the west wall.

John Evetts, Landmarks' furnishings expert has overseen the presentation and furnishings at Belmont, which falls in a favourite period for him. The colours, fabrics and furniture uniquely evoke Belmont's history and the lives lived within it.

Over the course of October I will be taking on a challenge to experience everything that Lyme Regis' new health club, B! Health & Fitness, has to offer and I will be sharing my experiences in this column throughout the month.

By day I work in advertising here at the View From and spend most of the day sat at a desk. I used to be very active but a tear to the ACL in my right knee put pay to my football playing days and, if I'm honest, now I've hit my thirties laziness has kicked in with my only real form of exercise being the walk to and from work (which does involve a very steep hill, I might add!) and playing golf once or twice a week. I lead a busy life as I am also a photographer and spend a great deal of my time taking and in particular editing photos. The free time I get tends to be spent with family or on the golf course. I do consider myself as healthy, I have a balanced diet and eat well through the week but I do tend to indulge at the weekends and enjoy a pint or two

I'm looking forward to making the time to visit the gym and seeing everything they have to offer, and hopefully it will energise me to become more

I've been speaking to Duncan at B! Health & Fitness who has put a plan together for me that fits around my busy lifestyle. I start with an induction to the gym with a basic fitness test across a few strength and cardio exercises followed by a few general gym sessions in the first week, working on different parts of the body each time. In the second week I will progress to some gym sessions more specific to my golf game, which I'm really excited about! In the third week I will be trying out four personal training sessions and in the fourth week I will be getting a taster for three different fitness classes, before finishing the month with a final full body personal training session. I will then be a re-assessed on the same strength and cardio exercises I did to start the month to see what improvement I've made. I can't wait to get stuck

CHALLENGE Lyme businesses shortlisted for Dorset Tourism Awards

Hotel in Lyme Regis are among the finalists for the Dorset Tourism Awards.

Fifty-one awards will be presented to Dorset's leading tourism businesses and individuals at this year's awards ceremony at Bovington Tank Museum on Oc-

The Dorset Tourism Awards were launched in 2012, and have seen year-on-year increases in entries and winners. Their main aim is to raise the profile of Dorset as a destination and recognise its top quality and most progressive tourism businesses.

This year's awards saw an increased 76 entries across 17 categories, with each going through a threestage judging process. Each entry was initially pored over and scored by tourism professionals; the top scorers in the first phase were then visited, leading to recommendations for each category; and finally these recommendations were considered by an independent panel. Finalists were selected from across the county with businesses from Lyme Regis, Poole, Weymouth, Christchurch, Bridport, Sherborne and Bournemouth amongst the list.

Lyme's Aroma Coffee House & Kitchen, on Bridge Street, will go up against Symondsbury Kitchen and Worth Matravers Teas & Supper Room in Swanage for the Cafe & Tearoom of the Year award. Fernhill Hotel, between Lyme and Charmouth, will face Bagwell Farm Touring Park, Weymouth, and South Lytchett Manor Caravan and Camping Park, Lytchett Minster, for the Sustainable Tourism Award.

Nick Fernyhough of headline sponsors Saffery Champness and a member of the judging panel enthused: "Saffery Champness have been involved from the launch of the Dorset Tourism Awards back in 2012 and have been delighted to see the impact of their involvement on the development of the awards. The awards are helping to raise the profile of Dorset and also to raise the quality of the Dorset visitor experience. We are delighted with the high calibre of finalists and wait with much anticipation for the prestigious Awards evening.'

Robin Barker of Services for Tourism, who created and manages the awards programme, added: "The last year has seen huge achievements for Dorset, with more businesses than ever before going on to win in Dorset, regionally and nationally. This year's winner list is bigger than ever and I'd at the forefront of what is one of the world's biggest, most dynamic and fastest growing industries.'

Successful businesses in the Dorset Awards will automatically be considered for the South West Tourism Excellence Awards in February 2016 with the chance to go on to represent Dorset at the National VisitEngland Awards later in the year. B Sharp leaders meet Sir Alex at London awards ceremony

THE director and chairman of Lyme Regis-based youth music charity, B Sharp, met former Manchester United manager Sir Alex Ferguson after being shortlisted for his first Leadership Award.

Director Fran Williams was joined by the charity's chairman, Ayvin Rogers, at a reception at the Royal Festival Hall, London, last Monday hosted for those shortlisted for the first Sir Alex Ferguson Leadership Award.

The awards were launched last month by social networking site LinkedIn, which asked seven million of its UK members to write a blog about the qualities the best leaders, and to nominate someone who had those qualities.

The purpose was to celebrate Britain's unsung heroes, who set shinning leadership examples in business and their communities, as part of the global launch of Sir Alex Ferguson's new book, "Leader", based upon his time managing Manchester United.

Mr Rogers responded and nominated Fran for her leadership of B Sharp.

He said: "It was a good opportunity to draw attention to the outstanding leadership and example Fran brings, highlight the work of B Sharp, share what I have learned and make connections within the LinkedIn community".

Joshua Graff, senior director of LinkedIn Europe, Middle East & Africa, introduced Sir Alex Ferguson at the reception and congratulated the short-listed authors and nominees, saying LinkedIn had been flooded with entries and all 15 shortlisted entries had done well to get to the final stage, adding that both the author and nominee would receive the award, for the different aspects of the competition.

Sir Alex talked about how difficult it had been to choose, taking days to decide and he had asked his wife and son to help him go through the shortlist while at their kitchen table.

Mr Rogers added: "It was a real honour for us to be shortlisted and invited to London to find out who the winners were.

"While we didn't win, it was great to meet Sir Alex and then listen to his interview in the Royal Festival Hall, where he received a standing ovation from a crowd of 1,500 people before he talked about his time leading a special period of Manchester United's history.

"To be endorsed by Sir Alex and LinkedIn is a good story for B Sharp. It will give additional confidence to our supports that the charity has a fantastic team built around Fran's leadership, who all work for the idea of empowering and creating opportunities for children and young people through collaborative music making."

■ CUTTING THE RIBBON: St Michael's congregation member Di Haines officially opens the new tea bar, watched by the Reverend Jane Skinner and Mayor of Lyme Regis, Councillor Owen Lovell

New tea bar opens in church

A TWO-year project reached its fruition on Saturday as St Michael's Parish Church in Lyme Regis officially opened its new tea bar.

The tea bar, funded by an anonymous donation and installed at the back of the church, will allow refreshments to be served at events in St Michael's, as well as providing extra storage and tidying up a previously neglected area of the building

The ribbon cutting was carried out by long-standing congregation member Di Hains and was attended by the Mayor of Lyme Regis, Councillor Owen Lovell.

The idea if installing a tea bar was first raised two years ago by Betty Wood, who thanked church warden Margaret McConkey for all her help with the project.

Local workmen David Lovell, Vince Rattenbury and Alan Ellis, finished the job with minimal disruption to the church, as were invited to the opening which was celebrated with a special cake baked by Ann Sar-

Celebrating the autumn equinox

Charmouth Parish Council has recently approve an application from the Tai Chi group to use the beach, following a dispute over permitted use of the beach under a restrictive covenant.

Parish clerk Lisa Tuck said: "The council receives various requests from organisations to use the beach and other locations throughout the year. Due to a restrictive covenant we need to ascertain what area of the council facilities they intend using to ensure we are not causing problems elsewhere."

The council's Foreshore Committee approved the group's request to meet on the beach on Tuesday evenings and to celebrate equinoxes.

The VIP screening of James Bond film "Spectre" will be held on Friday, October 30th. Tickets are available for 64 guests who will be asked to dress up in a 007-style for the red carpet occasion, where a drinks and canapés reception will be held before the film.

View from the Mayor's Parlour

— with Owen Lovell —

It's important to listen to the townsfolk

NE priority during my term as mayor is to ensure that the town council listens to the people of the town. It's your town and we are here to serve you.

That's why I am pleased with the number of people who took the opportunity recently to attend the "Time To Talk" session at the Wood-mead Halls to tell us what they wanted to see in their town.

I can assure you that all the views will be taken into consideration in the council putting together a list of priorities for the life of this council.

I hope that we will hold similar events on a regular basis so we can keep in touch with the mood of the town.

We would also like to see more people attend council meetings and have their say during the public forum.

The months of July, August and September have been really busy for Christine and I. Even I was surprised when I saw that my mayor's announcements for these three months filled up five A4 sheets!

On occasions when Christine has not be able to be at my side as she recovers from an operation I have been able to take my granddaughter Fmily along

I have continued to make sure that Lyme is represented at civic occasions throughout the county, having attended events at Weymouth, Gillingham, Shaftesbury, Bridport, Purbeck, Wimborne and Portland.

Your new council continues to settle well into the task at hand and we are getting to grips with some of the challenges.

Great concern has been expressed in many quarters over the closure of Church Street for such a long period and the gridlock caused on Sunday when traffic had to be diverted through the town due to the accident on the A35.

The town council had no influence over the closure of the street - a county council matter - but we will do our best to seek better consultation from the authorities when such incidents occur.

I am looking forward to the opening of the new children's playground in Anning Road on Saturday morning at 10 am. This is the result of a combined effort between the previous council and the residents and we hope the children get much enjoyment out of the pirate ship-themed

Contrary to popular rumour, I won't be opening the park by being the first one on the zip wire!

Finally, I would like to say a special thank you to the organisers of Candles on the Cobb for raising the magnificent sum of £40,000 at their August event, a fantastic achievement and surely the most successful fundraising event ever in our town.

I was privileged to light the first candle at this hugely emotional event which shows Lyme off in the best possible manner.

You can't beat a seaside holiday...

LYME Regis has punched above its weight again this year with a programme of summer events that is the envy of many bigger resorts along the south coast.

A glance at my list of mayor's engagements for the summer months will show how many events the town has staged during another exceptionally busy season.

We are extremely fortunate in this town to have a group of dedicated volunteers who organise our summer events which attract such large crowds.

This column gives me the opportunity to publically thank them for their efforts on behalf of the town and for raising such large sums of money for good causes.

It's great to see so many people joining in the fun and enjoying themselves, proving that you don't necessarily need sophisticated, high-tech fairground rides to attract the masses.

Lyme offers a more traditional seaside experience - and long may that be the case.

So to the organisers of the following: fossil festival, jazz festival, folk festival, Lifeboat Week, regatta and carnival, Lyme Lympics, Candles On The Cobb, Guitars on The Beach, Food Rocks and ArtsFest - well done and thank you on behalf of the many thousands who will remember their holiday in Lyme for many years to come.

And the locals had a good time too!

Rotary Club boosts town crier's fundraising for Malawi children

THE Rotary Club of Lyme Regis has supported the work being led by town crier Alan Vian and his wife Lynne in a remote Malawi village.

Mr and Mrs Vian recently visited Malawi where Alan worked with local schoolchildren and Lynne took part in a project planting trees. They are now raising funds to help improve conditions for the children.

Rotarian David Sarson, when handing Alan a cheque for £450 said: "These schoolchildren in Malawi are just like us, but by happenstance they find themselves with so little. You and your team, Alan and Lynne, are doing a superb job in helping give these children a decent start in life through education, something that the Rotary movement worldwide passionately supports.

■ HELPING THE LESS FORTUNATE: Rotarian David Sarson hands a cheque to Alan and Lynne Vian for their work with children in Malawi

"We are confident that you will ensure the monies we raised will really make a difference to the lives of these children in one of the poorest areas of Africa. Well done to you both."

Pirate theme opening for new-look play park

THE new-look play park at Anning Road playing field, Lyme Regis, will be officially opened this Saturday, October 3rd.

Work on the Jurassic and pirate-themed park, designed by Eibe Play, started in mid-August and its opening has been eagerly awaited by children and parents.

The project cost a total of £110,000, mainly funded by the town council. It will be opened at 10.30am by the Mayor of Lyme Regis, Councillor Owen Lovell, joined by children from St Michael's Primary School.

Children at the school are this week taking part in a competition to draw a picture of themselves and their friends playing in the park.

A winner will be chosen from each class, and the overall winner will help cut the ribbon and have sole use of the park for the first two minutes before the gates are opened to the crowds of children.

The pirate-theme opening event will continue until 1pm with face painting, cakes, refreshments, pirates hats and, of course, children will be able to try out the new play equipment for the first time, including a zip wire, pirate ship and accessible roundabout.

Councillor Lovell said: "We're very much looking forward to opening our fantastic new play park on Saturday and hope to see as many townspeople, particularly children, there are possible.

"It's been eagerly-awaited and we thank everyone for their patience while the building work has taken place.

"The park looks spectacular and we know local children are very excited to start using it. We hope it will be well used and well looked after for many years to come.

"We trust everyone will enjoy the morning and the equipment from then on."

Coffee for Christmas lights

THE Lyme Regis Christmas Lights Committee will host a coffee morning on Saturday, October 3rd to raise funds towards the 2015 festive illuminations.

Festival organisers are promising beautiful walks and organised activities in and around the town aimed at encouraging families and individuals to pull on their walking boots and get out into the fresh air to enjoy the stunning coastline and hinterland of this very special corner of Dorset.

Chairman of Lyme Regis Business Group, Tony Colston, explains: "Lyme Regis is glorious and full of visitors during the summer months, but we want to share it's dramatic beauty during the autumn and winter months as well.

"This will also help to extend the season for our local businesses and encourage more people to come to the town when it isn't as busy."

Several hotels, guest houses, and bed and breakfasts are offering special rates to visitors during the festival period while Lyme Regis' resident guided walk experts – covering fossil, history and literary walks to name but a few – will be running a special programme of walks during the festival.

Local bookshop Serendip is also offering independent festival walkers a 15 per cent discount on the walking book, "Walks Along the West Jurassic Coast".

Fitting that we say goodbye to Bill in the church he loved dearly

WE would like to contribute to the personal memories, so lovingly expressed by Philip Evans, of his lifelong association with Bill and Win Reed (View From Lyme Regis, September 23rd).

Though only associated with them since the 1980s we, like so many, have been blessed by their friendship and admiring of their determination and acceptance of all that advancing years have brought with dry humour and making the best of the limitations of life with the aid of their loving family.

Bill and Win were regular attenders at St Michael's Church and, despite in latter years Bill's failing sight, he liked to greet affectionately all of us; recognising us by voice and often perfume, listening intently to the sermon and regular in Communion.

For many years Bill was responsible, alongside others, for lettings at the church hall. When possible, especially when confined to his wheelchair, Bill came to the Communion Service started by the Reverend John Andrews at St Michael's School, where he was held in high regard by both heads, Chris Tozer and Annabelle Grose. He loved being with the children and they loved him.

Win and he tried to come to concerts and fairs at school whenever they could, for the parents and often grandparents of many were lifelong neighbours and friends.

It is fitting we say goodbye and thank you to him in the church he loved dearly today (Wednesday), and he remains in Lyme in the centre of the people who loved and respected him.

> The Reverend Keith and Audrey Vivian, Lyme Regis

Shouldn't give up opportunity for commercial use at Woodberry Down

WE have until October 8th to make representations to West Dorset District Council regarding Bloor Homes' appeal against the refusal of their plans to demolish the existing Woodberry Down building in Lyme Regis and replace with six more houses.

This can be done through the internet at http://bit.ly/1Ge6uhC, by emailing teamp2@pins.gsi.gov.uk or by sending three hard copies to The Planning Inspectorate, 310 Wing, Temple Quay House, 2 The Square, Temple Quay, BRISTOL BS1 6PN quoting reference numbers APP/F1230/W/15/3131950 and WD/D/15/000685.

If you already made representation when the plans were first submitted, it is unnecessary to repeat these comments.

I shall be making a representation and I hope others will be encouraged to do so. We shouldn't give up too easily on the opportunity for Woodberry Down to be use for commercial purposes, particularly now that we have superfast broadband in Lyme.

At the time of my co-option to the town council, I said that I wanted to encourage "hi-tech" businesses to Lyme on the back of superfast broad-band. These are just the type of businesses that offer skilled, permanent, employment to younger people. We are short of business space in Lyme and Woodberry Down would help greatly in this regard.

Councillor Richard Doney, Lyme Regis

Museum to host exhibition on closure of the Lyme Billy

A NEW exhibition on the closure of the Bluebell rail-way line from Axminster to Lyme Regis in 1965 opens in the Rotunda Gallery at Lyme Regis Museum on October 7th.

The Lyme Billy, the town's Bluebell line which opened on August 24th 1903, was axed 50 years ago on November 27th 1965 by Dr Richard Beeching.

The exhibition, which will run until early December, will show what the line was like during its short life from 1903. It will include material from local historian Ken Gollop and from museum research volunteer Richard Bull, as well as a newly commissioned painting, "The Early Train to Lyme" by accomplished local transport artist, Michael Stride.

The museum's Lyme Regis Station model will also be set out as on closure day and there will be mementoes of the line and many images.

Art society remember late chairman with special workshop for beginners

LYME Regis Art Society remembered its late chairman, Edna Dorrington, with a special beginners' workshop held as part of ArtsFest.

LYME REGIS

Edna is remembered as a very talented local artist, who always went out of her way to encourage beginners. In the spirit of this, society president Terry Whitworth led the participants through observational exercises, beginning with outline drawings of rose hips, then tonal sketches and finally adding watercolours to enhance their drawings.

Terry's skill as a teacher showed not only in the final paintings but also in the growing enthusiasm and interest of those taking part.

This workshop also marked the beginning of the society's annual programme and the following day saw an exciting demonstration by artist James Tatum (pictured). An engineer for 35 years, he moved to Dartmoor seven years ago and is now painting full-time.

As in engineering, the success of a project lies in sound, basic structure and in painting this means discipline in form, line, tone and colour.

Onto this structure go intuitive responses to the subject matter, in this case, a sunlit landscape with an old orchard.

Working from a small, highly-coloured sketch, James startled members by slapping a vivid yellow Z shape in acrylic paint across his paper using a broad decorating brush, laying down the basic structure of this painting, namely shafts of bright sunlight in the field seen through old gnarled trees.

The greens of undergrowth were whacked on with large brush marks and pushed around using kitchen spatulas, with the edge of a window scraper creating the fine vertical lines of trunks and twigs.

Next, the paper plate palette was pressed on to the image to stop it becoming too precious with the life of the painting destroyed. Although this seemed a haphazard way of working, the result was successful because, however wild the marks,

James knew exactly where each should go to enhance those first basic structural lines and to create the effects of distance, light and shade.

The final painting recreated the warmth and tranquillity of the orchard, whilst his second work portrayed the light and movement in the River Dart with its reflections and half submerged rocks and pebbles.

Lyme Regis Art Society is a growing group, providing demonstrations and workshops in a wide variety of media from September to April and welcoming all levels of skill and interest.

The next demonstration will be on Tuesday, October 6th in Woodmead Halls from 2pm to 4pm when Rebecca da Mendonca with speak on "Portraiture in Pastel". Visitors and new members are welcome. For further information, contact Sheila Stratton on 01297 445464

Latest mill exhibitions to show off variety of skills

THIS week sees the opening of two exhibitions at the Town Mill in Lyme Regis that will fire our imaginations as the seasons change

"Fluid Lines" in the Courtyard Gallery (from October 1st to 14th) is an inspiring display of stained glass, paintings and drawings, while "Losing the Thread" in the Malthouse (October 2nd to 21st) showcases 10 textile artists who are exploring how fabric and fibre can enhance our senses.

"Fluid Lines" is the first joint exhibition in Lyme of Seaton-based artists Ann Pengelly and Elizabeth Richie. Ann is a well-established stained glass artist specialising in leaded windows, glass etching and painted glass panels. Some pieces displayed here are usually only seen in the homes that they were designed for. Ann's unique 3D glasswork will also be on show

Elizabeth is exhibiting her latest collection of paintings that employ an unusual mixed media technique. Alongside these are a series of large charcoal drawings that she calls "Doodle Dancers" because she "takes a line dancing" on paper to create abstract movement and images of dancing figures, a reminder of her earlier career as a professional dancer.

"Losing the Thread" is the title of both the exhibition and the group of textile artists who learned to sew, knit and embroider from their mothers and grandmothers, turning naturally to textiles when they studied art later in life.

The three Lyme-linked members of the group are Penny Burnfield, who uses a great variety of materials and found objects in her work; Pat Mummery, who combines paint and print with hand stitch; and Jennie Pearson, the newest member, who was attracted by its open minded exploratory approach to materials and ideas.

Each member follows her own themes or threads that may bend, break, intermingle or get lost.

The two exhibitions will be holding a joint preview on Friday, October 2nd from 5pm to 7pm, to which all are welcome. You can also meet the artists on Thursday, October 8th at a "Tea and Talk afternoon".

From 2pm to 3pm, some "Losing the Thread" artists will share their ideas and are keen to meet others interested in textiles, and from 3pm onwards, Ann Pengelly will be demonstrating stained glass techniques, and Elizabeth Richie will be present to discuss her work.

Both exhibitions are open daily from 10.30am to 4.30pm and admission is free. For further details, see www.townmillartsquild.com

Terry New Denture Clinic

Dentures from the comfort of your home

TERRY New's Denture Clinic offers a service that few can compete with. Terry has been in the denture business for more than 30 years, and got introduced to the business by a relative who was a technician as well

He visits a lot of homes, and is one of the few practices in the country who is legally qualified to make dentures without the involvement of a dentist. He can make dentures straight to the public, which saves a lot of time and hassle.

"I do a lot of home visits, and meet a lot of people and go to a lot of residential homes, Terry said. 'I offer one on one service, at competitive prices.' Prices are extremely competitive even for those with a limited budget. Terry also offers a denture repair service, while customers wait.

"As I work from home, I do offer service at weekends, if I am around."

Based near Ashcot in Somerset, Terry can do home visits within a 25 mile radius of his home. For more information call 01458 210039 or cut out and keep this advertisement for future refer-

ELECTRIC DOUBLE HEADLINERS

THE Christians and Andrew Roachford join together for a double headline 11-date tour of the UK, with a performance at the Electric Palace, Bridport on Saturday, October 3rd.

Each will be fronting a 70-minute set with full band, playing the hits that took them to the top of their game in the late 80s and early 90s. And they're in finer voice than ever.

Formed in Liverpool in 1986 The Christians went on to become one of the UK's biggest soul bands with hits like Ideal World and Harvest for the World. A unique blend of soul, gospel and heartfelt acoustic pop, topped off by Garry Christian's distinctive vocals.

Andrew Roachford continues to grow and mature into a superb artist. His sound may have changed from the soul/rock fusion of debut hits Cuddly Toy and Family Man to more contemporary soul and r'n'b, but the quality has remained as consistently high as ever.

Tickets for the double headline show are £25 in advance or £27 on the door. Tickets are available through Electric Palace box office, Bridport TIC on 01308 424901 or online at www.seetickets.com.

HUCKLEBUCK BLUES

DON'T miss the Electric Palace's second monthly blues night this Friday, October 2nd, when Hucklebuck, featuring lan Briggs, takes to the stage.

Playing a mix of American west-coast blues, R&B and rockabilly, Hucklebuck draw on both original and lesser known compositions in a unique harmonica-led style.

lan Briggs is one of the UK's best blues harmonica players, and is pushing musical boundaries as he uses his chromatic harp to create a big band sound. Ian has played with many blues greats in his career, including Savoy Brown, Michael Roach, and the legendary Yardbirds in the 60s (alongside Eric Clapton).

Alongside Ian B is Ian Jennings, one of the UK's finest double bassists, who has worked with Robert Plant, Jeff Beck, Mark Knopfler, Tom Jones and Mick Fleetwood, among many others. Fellow band members are guitar maestro Andy Knight and drum wizard Richard Glazebrook.

Doors open at 7pm and the gig starts at 8pm. Tickets cost £10 + 50p bf in advance from the box office or Bridport TIC or £12 on the door or online at £10 + £1 bf from seetickets.com.

Elio Pace will 'start the fire' at Weymouth Pavilions

THE BILLY JOEL SONGBOOK

SINGER/SONGWRITER and piano-player Elio Pace and his band, will be performing, 'The Billy Joel Songbook', at Weymouth Pavilion on Friday, October 9th 2015.

In 2013 and again in 2014, Elio was invited by Billy Joel's original touring band, to 'fill Billy's shoes', starring in five very special reunion concerts in the USA recreating the historic Sigma Sounds live recordings. This incredible honour inspired Elio to fulfil a lifetime ambition of creating a theatre show showcasing the wonderful songbook of the six-time Grammy award winner, Billy Joel. And so, 'The Billy Joel Songbook performed by Elio Pace and his band' was born.

Last year, with Billy Joel's blessing, Elio and his band took to the road with the first ever Billy Joel National Theatre Tour, enthralling audiences at 70 venues around the UK and Ireland.

Tickets are £19, or £17 for under 16s. For more details and to book visit www.wey-mouthpavilion.com or call the box office on 01305 783225

assical Music at The Hub

HUW WIGGIN, saxophonist and Timothy End played an exciting and ear tingling concert at The Hub on Saturday evening. Listening to these two professional artists was amazing. Huw played with such passion and enjoyment and the technical piano playing was outstanding. These concerts give professional performers a platform to perform and explore repertoire and Huw Wiggin acknowledged this by saying how important this support was to all young musicians.

The next Concerts in the West performance is on Saturday, October 3rd from 7.30-9.30pm. Musicians of London Wall will be performing music from the baroque era and play on either genuine period instruments or accurate contemporary copies. Catherine Hodgson, the founder and director of this music charity saw them performing earlier this year at the London Handel Festival and knew that these were exactly the type of passionate, exuberant performers to come and play for Concerts in the West's audiences this October in Devon, Dorset and Somerset.

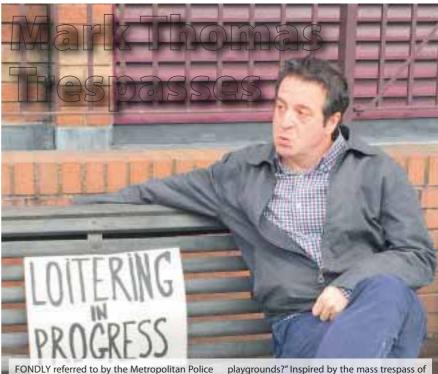

"Musicians of London Wall make use of popular 18th Century instruments and their performances give audiences a unique insight into the repertoire and style of playing of that era, which is tremendously exciting," said Catherine Hodgson. "It is rather thrilling to know that the music they are playing comprise original pieces, the music we will be hearing is like an echo from the past."

Musicians of London Wall are Emily Baines playing recorder, Ivana Cetkovic - violin, Alexis Bennett on viola, Lucia Capellaro playing cello, and Katie De La Matter harpsichord.

Tickets are available from Serendip in Lyme Regis and cost £15 for an adult and if you bring another person along, introducing them to the series, they can attend free. Students of 12 years + are half price and children of 11 years and under are free with an accompanying

If you want any further information about this concert or things happening at The Hub please contact Diane on 01297 445021 email dian@lrdt.co.uk or visit www.hublyme.co.uk

■ The Musicians of London Wall will also perform at Bridport Arts Centre on Friday, October 2nd at 11am for a Coffee Concert. Tickets are £10/£8 from www.bridport-arts.com or by calling 01308 424204.

FONDLY referred to by the Metropolitan Police as 'general rabble-rouser' and 'alleged comedian, The Marine Theatre welcomes rebel comedian Mark Thomas back to its stage on Friday, October 9th.

'Trespass' carries on from where Mark's previous show '100 Acts of Minor Dissent' left off. Combining his usual mix of theatre, stand up, activism, a dash of journalism and dollop of mayhem, Mark asks the question: "If the ramblers of the 1930's were here now, what would they do to open up the cities? How do we turn the skyscrapers and corporate squares into our Kinder Scout in 1932, Mark turns his eye to how the government have sold off the majority of our communal spaces, from playing fields to public rights of way, setting out to try and carve a small space in the urban world where mischief and random chance can lurk.

Mark Thomas comes to the Marine Theatre, Lyme Regis on Friday, October 9th. The show is suitbable for ages 16+, and tickets are £13 in advance or £15 on the door.

In good Taste

A CORNISH dance company is bringing a hilarious production inspired by the tapestries of Grayson Perry and supported by Rock and Roll Poet Murray Lachlan Young to Bridport Arts Centre on Friday, October 9th, 8pm.

Taste, which is produced by Cscape is a delicious romp of a show with humour, irreverence and playfulness at its heart. It asks what's behind our choices? What defines our identity? Do we really fall into "social tribes" and if so, how far up the social ladder is our tribe? Can we climb higher? "I wanted to make a show that would explore artistic director Sally Knight. "Grayson Perry's tap-(Cscape, Kneehigh) and Neil Paris (Fabulous Beast) and writing from Murray Lachlan Young (who recently brought the theatre production The Incomers to the Arts Centre's stage) Taste explores what defines our identity and ponders the intricacies behind our choices. Marketing Manager Lisa Wilcock said "Audiences may be familiar with Murray Lachlan Young, his hilarious and shocking show The Incomers delighted us all when it was staged in 2013 and he is a regular on BBC Radio 2 & 3. If you're looking for a great night out with plenty of laughs, this is the show for you."

Blending dance choreographed by Sally Knight

The Cabinet of Living Cinema presents Theatre of the Pun-Gent Wandering West

DORSET musician Kieron Maguire brings his captivating performance, Theatre of the Wandering West, to the Lyric Theatre in Bridport on Saturday 3

Kieron returns to his home county with a raft of incredible musicians for this unique performance, combining beautiful projected hand-drawn illustrations and animation, ethereal soundscapes and music, Yiddish ballads and roaring klezmer to tell an incredible story of a chance encounter and Kieron's great, great grandparents were part of an itinerate theatre travelling across Europe in the early 20th century. In 1911 while performing in Prague, the theatre company came into contact with one of the 20th century's most celebrated writers, Kafka, who became intrigued with the melodrama, the pantomime and the richness of the spoken Yiddish in the theatre's performances. He also became obsessed with Millie, a member of > the company, writing in his diary about her in forensic, infatuated detail.

> Theatre of The Wandering West elaborates on this heartfelt story of Millie and her husband, Emanuel. Charting an interweaving historical arc from Emanuel's boyhood as travelling wedding minstrel to the Prague café meeting with Kafka, the piece devised by Kieron with illustrations and animation by brothers Tom and James Brown (produced the stage design for West End show Wicked), and accompanied by additional musicians, illuminates the journey of Jewish fabletelling, theatre and comedy.

Kieron composes for theatre and performance using viola, guitar and loop-pedals, and originally trained at Winchester Cathedral Choir. The top pedigree musicians making up The Cabinet of Living Cinema include Camilo Tirado, percussionist, composer and sound designer, who has worked with the likes of Talvin Singh, Nitin Sawhney and Anoushka Shankar. Cellist Francesca Ter-Berg performs with Sam Lee, Katy Carr and Talvin Singh; Jack Maguire is the ex-lead violinist at Bournemouth Symphony Orchestra and soloist for Sadlers Wells Royal Ballet, and Robert Parkinson, dulcimer and foley artist, performed with London Symphony Orchestra at Tate Modern, V&A and British Museum.

An absolute feast for the senses!

Theatre of the Wandering West will be performed at the Lyric Theatre, Bridport on Saturday, October 3rd at 8pm.

Tickets are £10, available in advance from Bridport Arts Centre: 01308 424204 / online and Box Office Coffee or on the door from 7:30pm.

Testing the Boundaries

Life, Land and Livestock in Later Prehistory

DORSET County Museum is hosting a fascinating talk which will reveal what ancient animal bones can tell us about people's lives in prehistoric Dorset, this Friday, October 2nd, doors open 7pm.

Dr Clare Randall, an osteoarchaeologist with a particular interest in pastoral farming and land use during prehistory, said "Sometimes we assume that animal bones only tell us what people ate, but in fact they speak to us of so much more. Combined with other humble things such as fields and ditches, we can learn much more about people's lives than we could have possibly imagined."

This talk will explore the changing ways in which people in the Bronze Age and Iron Age organised everyday tasks, leaving behind them some of the largest scale archaeology we have.

Jam packed programme for all tastes this autumn at Dorchester Arts...

OW FIRMLY settled into their new home at Dorchester Corn Exchange, Dorchester Arts is excited to offer another packed programme of events to keep away the autumn chill. From top quality theatre, sell out entertainment shows through to jazz and blues legends and bhangra workshops, there is something for everyone to enjoy this season.

Their programme highlight will see jazz legend Courtney Pine with MOBO award winning pianist Zoe Rahman perform at Dorchester Corn Exchange for one night only on Friday, November 6th.

As well as this, and never short on a fantastic live music line-up Dorchester Arts has booked everything from blues to classical music so there is certainly something to suit all tastes.

Rock and blues favourites include Wille and the Bandits on October 3rd, followed by worldrenowned slide guitar player Steve James on November 7th. Sam Kelly's Station House will then grace the Corn Exchange stage on December 12th.

Fresh from his West End debut in the unforgettable feel-good musical High Society at London's Old Vic, Joe Stilgoe brings his hotly anticipated UK tour New Songs for Old Souls: Live to Dorchester on October 30th for an evening of "sheer joy" – The Scotsman ****

Mad Dog Mcrea appear on October 31st with their unique mixture of folk rock, pop, gypsy jazz, bluegrass and 'shake your ass' music - Mad Dog never fail to capture their audience with their infectious songs so come and join in the fun.

For the classical music lovers amongst you, Dorchester Arts is jointly promoting two events at the Dorset County Museum with Music at the Museum (DCMMS). Opus Anglicanum with BBC's narrator Zeb Soanes will perform Light on October 9th, followed by the acclaimed baroque ensemble Academy of Ancient Music who will perform Angels and Saints on November 25th.

Now positioned in a central location with a larger venue capacity means that Dorchester Arts can host national touring shows for the whole town and surroundings areas to enjoy. One such offering includes a mind bending entertainment show that will leave you speechless. Colin Cloud is a forensic scientist who mixes mind magic and brain science with his love of Arthur Conan Doyle's works he's the closest thing around to the real life Sherlock Holmes. Mind reader and spoon-bender Uri Geller described him as "one of the greatest thought readers of all time". In 2014, Colin became the runaway success of the Edinburgh Festival Fringe with 23 sold out performances and multiple 5 star reviews. Well worth seeing, if you dare.

Bastions of the beloved Test Match Special with over 80 years in the commentary box and touring the world with the programme between them, Henry Blofeld and Peter Baxter have some tales to tell. Roques on the Road is their brand new show crammed full of even more wonderful (and occasionally outrageous) reminiscences and anecdotes from two extensive careers spent broadcasting around the globe. Come ready to be shocked and entertained by good men behaving badly on November 8th.

Maintaining their long-standing reputation of offering top quality theatre, Dorchester Arts is pleased to offer a full range this season. Fantastic new productions from both local and national companies include a celebration of the Rugby World Cup with Live Wire's production of the acclaimed Hands Up For Jonny Wilknson's Right Boot on 7 October, followed by the new play Kinetics by local playwright and actress Sue Wylie on 18 October, tinderbox by Asone Theatre is performed on 16 October, and Jane Austen's Emma by Hotbuckle Productions on November 29th.

One particular highlight includes A Journey Round My Skull by KILN theatre company on November 11th, which is a beautiful and beguiling love story that really gets inside your head. Told by a neurosurgeon who casts the audience as her silent patient, this show gently and playfully transports you from the streets of Continental Europe to a scrap over profiteroles, into neurosurgery and onto the tracks of a ghost train. Featuring headphone technology and extraordinary sound design, this multi-sensory theatre experience operates on the ears as well as the heart to dissect our most intimate relationships.

For the younger audiences among us there is a new stage adaptation of Anthony Horowitz's The Falcon's Malteser by New Old Friends on 25 November. A hilarious family film noir pastiche following the adventures of the hopelessly inept private detective Tim Diamond and his sharp-witted brother Nick. The plot sees the Diamond Brothers Detective agency on a thrilling case to discover just what is so important about those titular Maltesers. It features slapstick, comedy songs and a cast of four playing 20 brilliant characters like: The Fat Man (who has lost a lot of weight), Gott & Himmell, Lauren Barcardi, Beatrice von Falkenberg and Betty Cleaner. The show toured the country last year to sell out houses and great reviews.

Younger participants can also come and join in the fun with activities including getting creative at an exciting drawing workshop as part of the national

BIG DRAW event on October 29th, or even try out some bhangra beats and dancing with festival favourites RSVP on October 24th in the morning. RSVP will also be perform live gig that evening – so why not come and join party Punjabi style!

FOUR BEDROOM, DECEPTIVELY SPACIOUS PROPERTY, IN BEAMINSTER - £450,000

JEREMY Smith, Senior Manager of Symonds & Sampson's award winning branch in Beaminster, is delighted to have been chosen to market an outstanding and extended property just off Shorts Lane. Jeremy commented 'our vendor had a number of valuations both from agents in Bridport and Beaminster, but we are grateful she chose us not only for our superior service, but also because we are on the property website Zoopla where most of our London enquiries come from. The property which is an absolute tardis, needs to be seen to be truly appreciated!

Hall, large sitting room, good size dining room, fine kitchen/breakfast room, three bedrooms, one being en-suite and a family bathroom. On the first floor is a very good size master bedroom with en-suite shower room.

Externally a true feature of the property are the very large lawned gardens and the fine balcony which overlooks them and the surrounding fields. There is also a useful workshop, parking for two vehicles and a garage.

We advise early viewing of this property which is on the market for £450,000 for the freehold. Please contact us on 01308 863100 to arrange a viewing.

"We were very impressed..."

Jeremy Smith, Senior Manager of Symonds & Sampson's award winning estate agency office in Beaminster, is seen here with a delighted Mr. and Mrs. Dent collecting the keys for their new property which they recently purchased through his office. Mr. and Mrs. Dent, who also sold their existing property in Crewkerne through Symonds & Sampson in Beaminster, commented 'We were very impressed with the service received, not only on our property sale, but also the onward purchase, which was one of a chain of four all being sold by Symonds & Sampson in Beaminster which proved particularly challenging. With regard to our own home we had been on the market with a Crewkerne based estate agent with limited success, however once we had spoken to Jeremy, we were in little doubt he was the estate agent for us and his Beaminster office certainly combined corporate drive with independent service, which he stresses is his goal. We agreed a sale on our property in less than a week!

We would also like to add a special word for Caroline Childs who handled our sale transaction and purchase very smoothly indeed and I would not hesitate to recommend Symonds & Sampson in Beaminster to all our friends.

We agreed the sale of these four bedroom detached properties extremely quickly and in one case the property has been on the market with

Jeremy Smith commented 'it is lovely to hear such kind words from Mr. and Mrs. Dent who were a pleasure to work

Top of the class – The Nissan Pulsar's many degrees of usefulness

As millions of students set off for University this month, it seems packing light is a thing of the past. Whether it's a student traveling alone, with friends, or being nervously dropped off by relieved or tearful parents, there will be thousands of packed cars and millions of pounds worth of belongings travelling the region's roads over the coming weeks, as the latest academic year gets un-

With 37% of students owning their own flat screen television, 34% a games console and 29% a bicycle that they intend to take to University, the transporting of goods in the family car is set to get harder and harder, and the journey more and more uncomfortable2.

In addition, many parents take the opportunity of children 'flying the nest' to downsize to a smaller car. With class-leading rear legroom and boot capacity, the Nissan Pulsar could be the perfect choice for transporting young people and their possessions - yet it has the running costs of a smaller hatchback. Quality touches such as built-in luggage dividers and additional hidden rear boot space ensure the safety and security of loads, too a very important factor when you consider that the average student (in the UK) now owns over £4,350 worth of possessions around £2,900 of which consists of desirable, high-value gadgets, such as smartphones, laptops and tablets2.

The five-door family hatchback – available with Nissan's popular 1.2DIG-T 115PS petrol engine or 1.5 dCi 110PS diesel engine – offers 385 litres boot space, well above the average for a car in its sector. If that isn't enough, the rear seats fold completely flat, expanding the boot space to a massive 1,395 litres.

Despite this, the Pulsar retains a compact footprint (4,385mm) making it easier to park in tight spaces when parents are helping to unload their children's belongings on arrival at University.

Parents who are in a hurry to get their kids away from home might want to choose the new turbocharged 1.6-litre DIG-T 190 version of the Pulsar which provides performance, as well as space, to the big farewell.

"Loading the car for University can be almost as stressful as your son or daughter leaving the family home in the first place," said Bastien Schupp, Marketing Vice President, Nissan Eu-

"But with the Pulsar, we aim to lighten some of the load. With students having more possessions than ever before, boot and passenger space is becoming ever more important to our customers."

Increase targeted road policing to drive down rising deaths on the road

needs to be done to protect vulnerable road users after new figures reveal a rise in the number of deaths on Britain's roads.

The family safety charity is advocating a range of solutions to drive down the number of deaths and life-changing injuries on Britain's roads, including ensuring there are sufficient numbers of police targeting careless drivers who put themselves and others at risk.

Statistics released today by the Department for Transport show an increase in the number of people killed or seriously injured, in particular pedestrians, cyclists and motorcyclists, last year (2014) compared to 2013

RoSPA is concerned, as the figures show a 4 per cent rise in deaths to 1,775. Of particular concern is the number of vulnerable road users being killed or injured. Three-quarters of the increase in deaths were pedestrian casualties, meaning that last year one in four people killed on the road were pedestrians. There were also 16,727 child casualties in 2014 - up 6.2 per cent on the previous year.

Cyclists also still account for a disproportionately high number of casualties, with 113 killed in 2014. Worryingly, there was a huge rise in the number of cyclists being seriously injured, from 3,143 to a total of 3,401. This number has been increasing almost every year since 2004.

Motorcyclist deaths rose by 2 per cent from 331 in 2013 to 339 in 2014, and there was an increase of more than 400 who were seriously injured, taking the number to 5,628 in 2014, a rise of 9 per cent. Overall motorcyclist casualties increased from 18,752 to 20,366, an increase of 9 per cent.

There were almost 200,000 casualties last year on Britain's roads - the first overall increase since 1997.

Traffic levels also rose by 2.4 per cent in 2014, which may account partly for the increase in deaths and injuries on our roads.

Nick Lloyd, road safety manager at RoSPA, said: "As our economy improves, we can expect traffic levels to continue to increase, so we must do everything we can to make sure this does not lead to even more increases in road crashes and casualties.

tomatically be sustained, without a continued commitment to road safety. We must remain focussed on making our roads safer for everyone, and especially for people travelling on foot and by two wheels.

"The number of pedestrian fatalities involving those over 60 has increased by 16 per cent, together with a 7 per cent increase in car occupants. With an aging population we must renew our efforts to reverse this phenomenon.

"It is estimated that between 240 and 340 people were killed in Great Britain when at least one driver was over the drink-drive limit. We must renew our efforts to highlight the dangers of drink driving."

DORCHESTER Town continued their good form with a draw against the Dolphins who were keeping them out of fourth place by virtue of having scored one more goal than them.

In a game with few clear chances, and with both keepers on form, a stalemate was perhaps expected.

The  $\overline{\text{Magpies}}$  made the better start and Jonah Ayunga had a good chance to put them ahead from Lewis Morgan's cross on 15 minutes, but headed weakly at keeper Nick Hutchings.

Unfortunately Gleeson had to be substituted and was replaced by another Magpie Steve Devlin as the Dolphin's began to get back into the game.

Shane Murphy was forced into a good low save from Luke Roberts before he went even closer, hitting the crossbar with a curling effort. Dorchester responded and Charlie Davis was close with a free kick.

Gale tonic as Bees stop Merley run

Merley Cobham Sports 1 Bridport Reserves 1

BRIDPORT Reserves produced a superb performance to halt Merley's run of seven successive victories in the Dorset Premier League.

The result was even more commendable as the Ressies were down to the bare bones with seven players unavailable, leaving manager Shaun Annetts to ask Lee Cleal, deputy first team keeper, and Robin Jones to get out of his sickbed, to take their places on the subs

Fortunately Annetts was able to call on Jamie Beasley, looking for game time whilst recovering from a hip injury, and the now eligible Max Buckler, whose has now finally received international clearance after a spell in

Some good football between man of the match Will Gape and Tom Blair found Harry Fleet wide who dropped in a beautiful cross for Tristan Gale to rise and guide his header into the keeper's top left hand corner.

With their tails up the Bees continued to dominate and could have won it near the end when first Beasley was thwarted by Merley's keeper who made a great save in a one-on-one, and then sub Liam Annetts was similarly frustrated by an fantastic recovering tackle on the edge of the box having surged forward and about to shoot.

Netherbury Reserves 2 Drimpton Reserves 3

NETHERBURY Reserves will be kicking themselves again this week as they let another victory slip away in the last few minutes of a game against the team at the top of the league.

Drimpton Reserves arrived at St Mary's with mostly first team players, and were probably expecting an easy game. The home team set up in an altered 4-4-2 formation and matched the visitors comfortably for the first ten minutes. Netherbury realised that they could compete and started to create some half chances. Phil Hussey fired just wide after 12 mins and Ryan Gay just over after 15.

After 20 minutes ticked past Paul Ruffell provided a superb defence splitting ball and Phil Hussey sprinted clear and calmly put the home team into a deserved

After looking so comfortable for the first half hour, Drimpton were gifted an equaliser when a back pass from Steve Symonds hit a bobble and bounced over Keeper Mark Tozers leg leaving the Drimpton Striker to walk the ball into the empty net. 1-1

In the second half the home team got amongst the Drimpton team and were playing the ball around well. Ruffell had been a threat all day in more advanced position and a had driven effort well tipped over the bar by the visiting keeper.

The pressure was still on and Ryan Gay chested down into the path of Hussey who fired narrowly wide. Then Hussey fired in a whipped cross for Gay who headed just wide. On 60 minutes, the home team should have had a penalty when the ball was taken off the head of Symonds with the clear use of a defenders hand, but it was not given. Then Netherbury had the luck on their side when an exact replica of the bobble goal conceded earlier happened to the visitors, after the ball bounced over the keepers leg to hand Hussey the chance to tap in for his second. A deserved 2-1 lead.

More Drimpton first team players were brought on by the visitors, but the home team had the chances

In the last eight minutes of the game, and after such a good performance, Netherbury threw it away. They started to get involved in niggling incidents, and were caught napping and the visitors headed a cross in with 4 minutes to play. In a final twist of the knife, a penalty was awarded in the last minute and dispatched and Netherbury finished empty handed.

WEYMOUTH Rowing Club Crews re turn very credible times in the London River Marathon

The recent 2015 Great River Race had 330 competitors from all over the world racing the 21.6 miles from London's Dockland to finish at Ham Surrey.

After a very hectic launch and mustering process the diverse range of rowing craft were started according to a predetermined handicap with the slowest boats starting even before the Gigs were on the

Being classified as one of the fastest

Waterman Cutters and Celtic Longboats were kept back to start approximately one hour after the first boats.

Unfortunately the river conditions were judged too rough for the Dragon boats and so at the very last minute they were withdrawn reducing the fleet to 302

Due to the diverse range of boats and their differing speeds the cox had to thread their boat through a very congested course where overtaking was restricted within the vicinity of the 28 bridges, this the duration of the race with every competitor vying for position in the restricted space of the river course. Weymouth Rowing Club (WRC) two crews were separated by a mass of boats at the start and the Ladies crew steamed ahead, they flew down the course to finish in 2hrs 50minutes in front of 199 explosive start to the season, had no answer to Max Willcox who grabbed a hat trick.

The Rec striker gave his side the lead on 36 minutes, but Balti equalised just before the break when Ricky Lane hit a screamer giving keeper Mike Harvey no chance.

However Willcox immediately struck again with a header from Martin Warren's cross to put Hamworthy ahead on half-time. The hosts took control in the second half. Warren's shot hit the crossbar before bouncing down over the line on 54 minutes to increase the lead, before Willcox completed his hat trick three minutes later. Shaftesbury Town 3 Weymouth Reserves 1 WEYMOUTH serves found the Rockies hard to break on Saturday at Cockrams on Saturday.

They took the lead when Connor Jevons scored with an unstoppable header from a corner on 25 minutes, before Rockies keeper Johnny Hill stopped the hosts going two down with an excellent save before half-time.

Shaftesbury got in gear in the second half and Matt Chant headed home Jack Twyford's free kick 11 minutes in for the equaliser.

They went ahead in the 68th minute from a superb 25-yard Lee Gale free kick before Chant underlined their superiority a minute later, finishing a good run with a thumping 25-yard shot which struck the underside of the bar on its way. Weymouth did have a chance to get back in the game when they were awarded a penalty, but Hill saved the spot kick.

Yeovil shock Bridport with big victory

BRIDPORT 5pts YEOVIL 72pts

BACK at the start of September, Bournemouth 3rds beat Yeovil 17-12 in the first league game of

In the second league game Bridport comfortably beat Bournemouth 3rds, 46-17. You would not then expect Bridport to lose to Yeovil by 72 points to 5 in the third round of league games, and at home too.

But that was indeed the score as Bridport were comprehensively out played by a physical and very determined Yeovil side.

Numbers 7 and 13 for the visitors had exceptional games and would not have looked out of place playing at a higher level. Their teammates also played well, both defensively and in attack, and by half-time they had run in eight tries, three of them converted. Bridport were guilty of numerous missed tackles as they found it hard to live with the intensity of Yeovil's attacks. In contrast their own attacking moves were quickly snuffed out by the opposition.

On the positive side the scrum and lineout were solid for Bridport and Yeovil were forced to concede a number of penalties. From one such Oz Sullivan took a quick tap and go, surged up-field and off-loaded to Liam Poole who was brought down iust short of the line.

Scrum-half Ollie Everitt got a good low body position to drive over the line for Bridport's only score. Bobby Lester-Card was unable to add the conversion from a wide angle.

In the second half Yeovil added four tries, three of them converted.

Bridport did see a bit more of the game, and the introduction of Dave Cutting at full-back helped to tighten the defence, but really the hosts were no match for a very good Yeovil side.

Adam Vickery was Bridport's man of the match.

Baker treble boosts Beaminster

Blandford & SN 2nds 1

EMILY Baker made an instant hit by grabbing a first half hat trick on her debut for Beaminster, who cruised past a gallant Blandford & Stur side that were a player short.

Beaminster themselves were starting from a minus points position having been unable to fulfil their opening fixture of the season the week before at Bournemouth 4th due to lack of back to status quo with a win.

Baker's triple and one from Megan Tuck saw the hosts ease into a comfortable lead against a side that were temporarily down to nine for a while due to an injury, but pulled one back before the break.

who had earlier missed an open goal, with one she couldn't turn down three minutes in.

It was mainly one way with Beaminster's new keeper Rachel Goodfellow rarely bothered, although Blandford still managed some neat hockey despite their numerical disadvantage.

A rare goal for Julia May, neatly slotting home a rebound increased the lead, before the move of the match down the left saw Lydia Brooking home the seventh. Tuck completed the scoring on the final whistle as she fired home Andrew's cross from the right.

Bridport Gig Club

Bridport top Dorset Jurassic crew at Newquay event

BRIDPORT Gig Club's Men's A crew became the most successful Jurassic crew in Dorset when they finished 14th in the county championships at Newquay Bridport's two crews were drawn in different heats in the first race where sea conditions were good and the visibility clear, making for fast racing around the two buoy turn course.

Crews race in unknown boats, drawn from a hat shortly before the event begins, giving the added pressure of rowing an unfamiliar boat.

The A crew had a brilliant race and finished in very close third place in their first heat, but with a very good time and still with a chance of progressing to the next round. They then raced again to secure themselves a place racing on the second day of the championships.

The A crew put in another strong performance in the quarter finals and were eight seconds from qualifying for the semi-final, but in finishing 14th overall they became the highest placed Bridport boat ever, and most successful Jurassic team at the event this year.

This crew were only put together this season, and have been training hard on and off the water to achieve brilliant results. Four of the crew had not raced be fore this season.

The B crew also had a strong first race but unfortunately did not proceed into the next round, although they did very well considering two of the crew have only been rowing for a few months, and were thrown straight into racing with the squad. They had a very close battle with local rivals on the last leg of the course and managed to pull away, finally overcoming them on the line.

Kevin Batchelor, the men's captain, said it is particularly pleasing as these rowers came up through last summer's development squad, and had large amounts of praise for the men's squad.

This event brought an end to a very successful season for the men's squad, which has grown in strength and size as the season has progressed, with success winning at Bridport and Sidmouth regattas, and coming joint seventh with Falmouth in the Tribute league, where points are awarded for each race entered at regattas throughout the season.

Falmouth is consistently the winning teams at many regattas, with both men's and women's A crews having been world champions on multiple occasions, and often dominating the top spots.

The Bridport men's crews having ended the season on a high will now begin winter training, working on technique, fitness and strength in preparation for the World Championships next spring, and will still be seen rowing out of West Bay harbour at weekends and some weekdays along with the ladies and general

West Dorset Hockey Club

WEST Dorset Hockey Club sides got off to totally contrasting starts to this year's campaign, following the great season both had just missing their respective promotions

The Hawks crashed to a 4-0 defeat at Yeovil & Sherborne A and currently prop up Wood Davis Southern 2 division, whilst West Dorset A – following their comprehensive victory over Bridgwater C - lead South East 2.

Yeovil & Sherborne A 4 West Dorset Hawks 0

WEST Dorset Hawks began the season with defeat at Yeovil & Sherborne A on Saturday where the hosts superior fitness showed in the second half.

The Hawks were missing Bob Dormer and striker Steve Mearing, and with Mike Thompson having moved away, they missed the dynamic duo's goalscoring up

Having said that they were not short of opportunities in the first half where they were by far the better team, but failed to capitalise on a number of short corners offered and found themselves a goal down at half-time.

Unfortunately the hosts' superior fitness told, and as the game progressed they made that count as they took control. Despite the Hawks best attempts up front, and particularly Simon Wakely and Rob Cox who had outstanding games, they couldn't hold Yeovil off and they soon made use of the overlap to score three more in the second half

West Dorset Hawks: Tom Lowe, Julian May, Charlie Davis, Robin Goodfellow, Rob Cox, Alex Davies, Russel Coombes. Rick Steele, Gavin Brooking, Simon Wakely, Rick Dormer

West Dorset A 6 Bridgwater C 1

WEST Dorset A started the new season with an emphatic home victory over Bridgwater C at the weekend

The visitors started the better of the two sides, forcing the early pace but once West Dorset A settled they started to create the more clear cut chances, and took the lead on 10 minutes when Dan Wyatt's pass from the byeline was inadvertently deflected over the goal line by the Bridgwater keeper.

The home side dominated possession for much of the first half with Wyatt and Jules Lawrence controlling midfield, but the visitors were still dangerous on the break, but their attacks were continually blunted by the home defence of Bruce and Giles Maltby, Henry Middleton and Ollie Gargrave.

With half-time approaching the hosts extended their lead; Kiwi Rich Wilson found Middleton in the area and he smashed the ball on the run past the visi-

Despite the half-time talk asking for a repeat performance in the second half, Bridgwater pulled a goal back within a minute of the restart, the home side carelessly losing possession just outside their own 'D' where the ball was quickly passed into the area for a forward to skilfully deflect the ball past keeper Bertie Newman.

To their credit, West Dorset didn't panic at this setback and within four minutes they extended their lead.

Wyatt drew the keeper before squaring the ball across the byeline to give John Kellas the simple task of tapping the ball into the empty goal.

Kellas made it 4-1 moments later when he found himself free in front of goal and reverse flicked the ball through the

With five minutes remaining, an injury to Wilson meant Middleton switched to a more attacking position and he got on the scoresheet again when his run into the area was spotted by Kellas and the captain slotted home his cutback for his second goal of the game.

Kellas finished off the scoring, completing his hat trick just before the final whistle when he found himself one on one with the keeper and he flicked the ball Skipper Middleton said: "Despite a few players being unavailable this week, this was a good team performance.

"We were strong in defence as Bridgwater didn't have much of a sniff in front of goal and with no recognised goalkeeper available I would like to thank Bertie Newman for stepping up and making his

Bees keeper Ashley Weeks was finally forced into a save, be it a routine one, just before the break when he was forced to palm a shot over the crossbar.

Bridport increased their lead within 30 seconds of the restart when Byerley and Clarke combined on the left before the Bees captain curled a cross in behind the Heathens defence for Dovell to stroke home from six yards.

Richardson almost increased that lead but Drewitt somehow managed to block his shot on the line with his feet.

Cadbury Heath finally forced their way into the game and were rewarded on 68 minutes when Condliffe caught a players foot in the box to concede a penalty which Huxley dispatched for his twelfth goal

It looked like the Heathens might have had a second penalty in an identical situation to the first soon after when Ryan Hayter appeared to have taken an opponent's legs as he made a challenge

However the referee dismissed the appeals despite the player missing the target after he played advantage.

As Bridport faded Cadbury Heath could once again have snatched something from the game, but Weeks pushed Joe Chandler's shor over

Where there's a wil

Saturday, September 26th Halwill 3 - Lyme Regis 6

A JOE BOND hat-trick sealed an impressive comeback victory on Lyme Regis' visit to distant Halwill.

Having raced to a first minute lead through Bond, following a slide-rule pass from Julien Simier, the Seasiders were pegged back to 3-1 before half time, with the hosts capitalising on an unusual line-up and formation for the Lyme first XI.

Following a stern half time team talk, and a reshuffle back to a more familiar 4-3-3 formation, the visitors found their feet, and within ten minutes of the restart Bond returned the earlier favour by squaring for Simier to finish.

With Mark Bailey and Sam Jones driving the Seasiders forward, the score was all square once again, as Rob Fellingham slotted away a penalty following as foul on Bond.

The turn-around, but not the scoring, was complete when defender Alfie Bellworthy rose to power home a header from a Fellingham cross.

In-form Joe Bond, notched the fifth after good centre forward play, and the sixth - and his hat-trick goal with a neat lob following a clipped ball from Callum Larcombe.

At Davey Fort, Lyme Reserves ran out comfortable winners against a weak Bradninch side.

Following a tetchy first 20 minutes, Lyme settled into their stride, and striker Pete Peacock netted two to give the home side a 2-0 half time lead.

The second half was far more one-sided, with goalkeeper Toby Fowler rarely troubled. Peacock goals, and could have finished with even more but for some fine goalkeeping from the Bradninch shot-

An own-goal following good work from Sam Bevis, and a 20-yard strike from Bevis wrapped up the scoring.

Shepton Beauchamp were given a walkover in the Coronation Cup as Lyme Bantams failed to raise a team.

UPLYME travelled to Hawkchurch in Perry Street Division 1, and came away disappointed despite a gutsy performance, going down 3-1. Debutant Brad Rowe got the Swallows only goal.

Uplyme Reserves fell 7-1 at Venlake to a strong Dowlish outfit. Ryan Smith grabbed the Uplyme goal.

CHARMOUTH came away from newly re-formed Halstock with a point following a 2-2 draw.
